Mr. Milano

ALL ABOUT MR. MILANO

Hey SMS! Welcome back to Teacher Talks where you can get the inside scoop on all the teachers at SMS! Our names are... Olivia Trentacosta, Camryn Umhafer, Sydney Walsh, Lauren LoPresti, Valerie Martin, and Rhianna Miah. We're from the class Share the Good News. Today joining us is Mr. Burns, one of the 8th grade history teachers here at SMS.

Q – “What’s your favorite unit you teach?”

A – “America between the wars. It is diverse like the side of a coin. One part (1920’s) is very positive and the Great Depression was very negative for America.”

Q – “What got you into teaching?”

A – “At Providence College I started teaching my friends to study for tests, and I realized I enjoyed doing it and that it was the best thing because I feel that you should do what you want to do.”

Q – “Why do you enjoy teaching the subject you teach?”

A – “I like history because I feel students enjoy classes about real people and real things. I also loved my French class because of the teacher.”

Q – “How many years have you been teaching?”

A – “I have been teaching since 1997. I started in the high school at 1997, then went to the middle school at 2001. I started teaching in Massachusetts but left because of family.”

Q – “Who’s your best friend at Seaford Middle School?”

A – “Mrs. Milano is my best friend.”

Q – “If you didn’t teach the subject you teach, what other subject do you have in mind?”

A – “English.”

Q – “What is the greatest challenge you had to face while teaching?”

A – “Keeping 20+ kids interested in the plan you have every day.”

Q – “What’s your favorite food”.

A – “Falafel with rice and veggies.”

Q – “Who would you like to see on Teacher talks?”

A – “Mr. Thau.”

“I would like to thank everyone last year for staying in a classroom all day, eating lunch in their classrooms, and just doing everything in the classroom. Thank you – Mr. Milano”
