MAY

The month of May often brings some of the most beautiful weather of the entire season. Enjoy this time in your garden and try to take it all in - the fragrant Lilacs, elegant Evening Primroses, dainty Ranunculus, and Larkspur flowers are just some of the treasures of a May Garden. It used to be when the warm midwestern sun was in seedling and reaching time, the bees and you will have made in the heat of June and July. Resist the temptation to "jump the gun" by planting your tomatoes, peppers, and eggplants too early. Remember: temperatures in May can still get down into the 30's at night. An old time farmer's rule of thumb is "Don't plant your tomatoes until Memorial Day". That's still sound advice.

Student Art Competition

Additional details for submission:

Works in color are preferred as they will result to a more vibrant and eye-catching calendar. (If the work is not in color, charcoal and chalk are better options than graphite as they create more contrast).

Any traditional medium is allowed (i.e., oil pastel, chalk pastel, acrylic, tempera, oil paint, watercolor, gouache, printmaking, collage, colored pencil, crayon, and ink.)

When photographing artwork keep the camera lens parallel to the picture plane and be sure to have even lighting without shadows casted on to the surface. It is best done by placing works on an easel or on the wall. Please be sure to center the artwork in the shot and that it fills the frame.
